cabinet of curiosity

"First cut your whale into dainty pieces"

Antonia Yeoman (Anton)

AED 2000

One of a kind

Delivery:
1 to 5 days within the UAE, depending on the size of the object and the location to be delivered to.
International Delivery:
please read all details on our website

Available For Home Viewings:
Schedule a viewing to see this piece in your home

ABOUT

Pen and ink drawing heightened with white by Antonia Yeoman (“Anton”), titled “First cut your whale into dainty pieces.” The composition depicts a group of seated figures holding papers while a standing instructor addresses them beside a table set with utensils and cookware. A chalkboard on the right lists ingredients for a cookery class. The drawing is signed Anton at the lower right. Published in Punch on 19 November 1947.

Antonia Yeoman (British, 1907–1970), known professionally as “Anton,” was a cartoonist and illustrator active in mid-20th-century British periodicals. She contributed regularly to Punch from the 1930s onward and worked under a pen name shared early in her career with her twin brother, Harold Underwood Thompson. Yeoman produced illustrations for magazines, books, and advertising, becoming a frequent contributor to British humorous and editorial publications during the 1940s and 1950s.

ITEM DETAILS

Reference: #PH055

CREATOR	PERIOD / DATE	PLACE OF ORIGIN
Antonia Yeoman (Anton)	1947	England

DIMENSIONS

Unknown

MATERIALS & TECHNIQUES

Pen and Ink on Paper

CONDITION

Excellent