ABOUT

A pair of classic Roman-style vases with gilded handles with rings and legs. The base and top border of the vases are green and the middle part is grey depicting figures. Marked at the bases: "L.M And Cie".

Louis-Martin Lebeuf (1792 – 1854) was a right-wing politician and banker from France. He advocated for protectionist measures and backed the coup that established the Second French Empire under Napoleon III. From 1840 until his death, Lebeuf was the director of the Creil-Montereau faience factory for the Societe Lebeuf et Millet and created ceramics under “L.M et Cie” trademark.
