ABOUT

A freestanding four-fold screen is designed to serve as a room divider, providing distinct yet equal attention and curiosity from each side.

The backside is covered with ripple sycamore veneer, and the front - multi-chrome stained magnolia veneer, with diagonal "rainbow pattern" and ebonized triangles on the base. A modern, yet versatile look, created by ombré of bespoke colors.

David Linley is the professional name of David Albert Charles Armstrong-Jones, 2nd Earl of Snowdon (born 3 November 1961). Styled as Viscount Linley until 2017, he is an English furniture designer and manufacturer, known for his luxury bespoke craftsmanship. He served as Chairman of Christie's UK from 2006 to 2017 and is the nephew of Queen Elizabeth II, being the son of Princess Margaret and Antony Armstrong-Jones, 1st Earl of Snowdon.

In 1985, he founded Linley, a bespoke furniture brand known for its fine craftsmanship, architectural influences, and modern take on classic techniques. His work, spanning furniture and interiors, is highly sought after by collectors and institutions.
